SUN-KISSED BEAUTY IN THE SOUTHERN HARZ

Bad Sachsa

Schmerlbrunnen im Stadtpark

Ravensberg

Schmelzteich

BAD SACHSA is one of the most beautiful spa and holiday resorts in the southern Harz region. Many hours of sunshine are alluring in the mild summers. In the winter-time, the Ravensberg offers all kinds of opportunities for winter sports, and the peak of the local mountain of Bad Sachsa is accessible by car.

The cozy town centre, located around the Protestant St. Nikolai Church invites you to linger. On a leisurely stroll through the village, you will hear many birds chirping in the vitality park with its lake and the city park with the historical “Schmerl”- Fountain. The neat Art Nouveau villas and historic buildings give the town an appealing flair.

Entertaining events take place all year round in the Vitalpark and in the Kurhaus. The natural and prehistoric history museum, and the permanent exhibition „Our true identity was meant to be destroyed“ at the borderland museum are also must-sees.

Along with the districts of Steina, Tettenborn and Neu- hof, Bad Sachsa is worth a visit at any time of the year.

The northern half of STEINA is surrounded by spruce and deciduous forests. To the south, a natural monument, visible from afar, towers above the village: the “Roemerstein”, a rock massif.

In the wild and romantic valley “Steinatal” with its drinking water reservoir, visitors can experience the interplay of water and glass in the historical glass museum. The river “Steina”- whose high waters can flow into the Elbe- seeps away in summer in the centre of the village to form a typical karst creek.

A sight to see

The settlement of TETTENBORN probably dates back to around 800 AD when a prince built a small fortress beside the sacred “Born” (well). It was then taken over by the progenitor of the von Tettenborn family.

A few hundred meters from the former inner-German border, the “Harzer Grenzweg”, begins here and takes you along the „Green Band”, via Walkenried and the “Brocken” to the foothills of the Harz

In NEUHOF you will find gypsum quarries with a rich deposit of gypsum- a discovery on various nature trails, such as the nature trail at the “Kranichteich” (crane pond) and the circular hiking trail near Neuhof.

Landmarks are the “Sachsenstein” cliffs, visible from the outskirts of the town.

BAD SACHSA BORDERLAND MUSEUM PRESERVE - REMEMBER - REMIND

Documents and relics of the time of the partition of Germany are part of a variety of exhibitions and remind people of all generations of a special era in German history in a highly informative and captivating way.

The permanent exhibition is structured according to historical processes. Guided tours by genuinely "borderline-experienced" staff make every visit to the museum special.

BAD SACHSA LOCAL HISTORY AND WINTER SPORTS MUSEUM

The Local history and Winter sports Museum in Bad Sachsa documents the development of the town from a border and waggoner town and pretty traditional spa town with Art Nouveau architecture to today's spa resort.

Another area is dedicated to winter sports on the Ravensberg and the history of sledging, from steered sleds to bobsleighs.

GLASS MUSEUM STEINA

The Historical Glass Museum in Steina shows the history of the forest glass works in the 16th and 17th century in the region. The Glass and Ironworks Museum in neighboring Wieda is also worth a visit.

The guiding principle of the exhibition is "The Glass Trail", going back to the time of the pharaohs in ancient Egypt.

ARTISTS AND EXHIBITIONS

The spa climate of Bad Sachsa is not only appreciated by tourists but inspires artists as well.

Numerous art studios, including well-known names such as LUDEWIG and TRAGICO, open their doors and take visitors away to unknown worlds.

Exhibitions from other art domains are also always on offer. Further information is available from the Bad Sachsa Tourist Information Office.

The municipality of Walkenried includes the beautiful monastery of Walkenried, Wieda and the spa resort Zorge and is in the immediate vicinity of Bad Sachsa. During a holiday in the southern Harz a visit to the Walkenried monastery is a must!

Walkenried, with the Walkenried Monastery, which was built by Cistercian monks and is a UNESCO World Heritage Site, is located on the river Wieda.

The tourist information office and the UNESCO World Heritage information centre are located in the manor house next to the monastery.

The Cistercian Monastery Museum Walkenried shows the history of the monastery up close and with media: monks moving from the Lower Rhine region settled in what later became Walkenried as early as 1129; their monastery church was sanctified in 1137. From 1200, economic success resulted in an immense increase in the ranks of the brothers. Around 100 monks and around 300 members of the monastery lived, prayed, and worked here during its heyday. In the middle of the 14th century the monastery got into economic difficulties due to the plague and the decline of the mining industry. The crisis culminated in the Peasants' War and the Reformation. Today only the ruins document the former dimensions of the monastery church. The monastic enclosure however is still largely preserved.

The northern cloister with its unmistakable hall character is a trademark and unique architectural feature -it makes a visit to the Cistercian Monastery Museum in Walkenried a fascinating experience for the whole family.

EXPLORE THE UNESCO WORLD HERITAGE IN THE HARZ FROM WALKENRIED

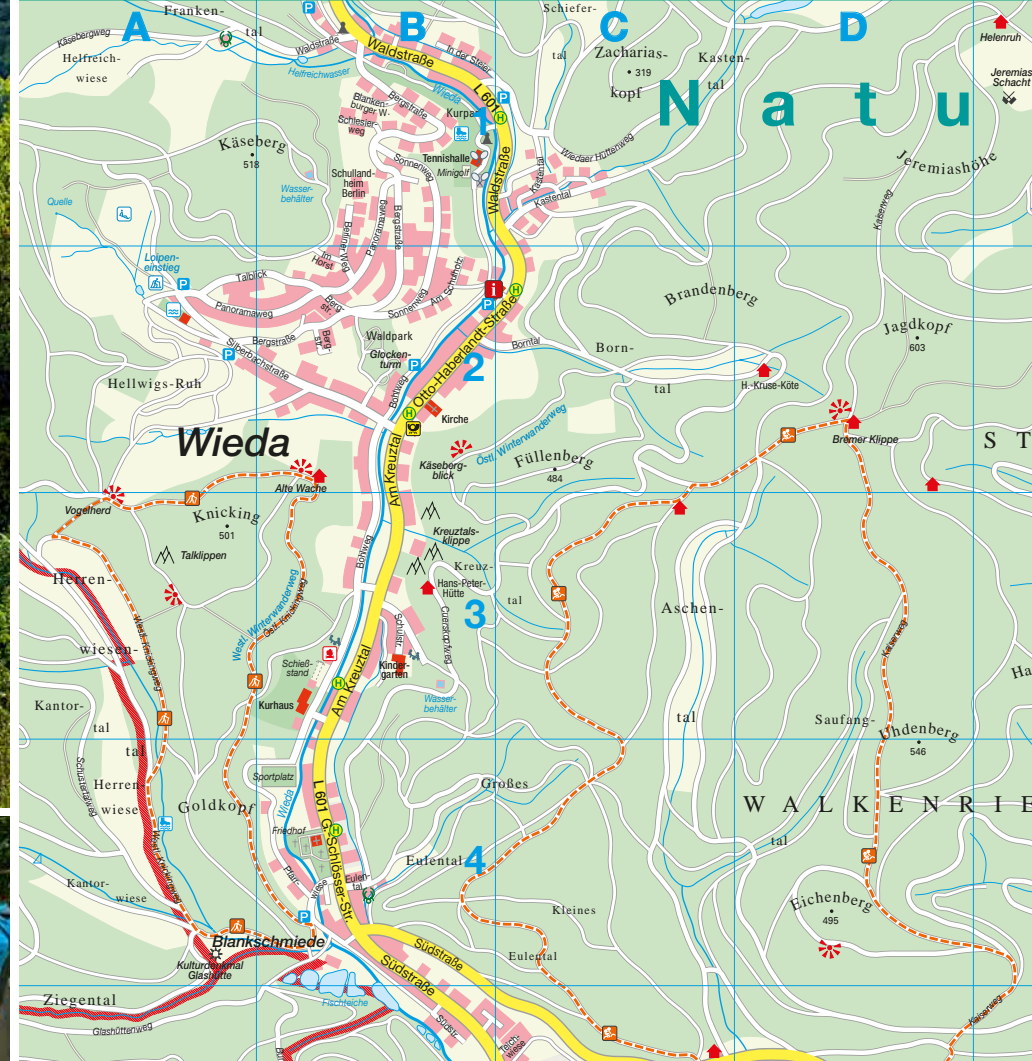

The World Heritage Information Centre presents the diversity and richness of the UNESCO World Heritage in the Harz region.

Find out why UNESCO has declared the „Rammelsberg“ Mine, the Old Town Centre of Goslar and the historical “Oberharz Water Supply System“ a World Heritage site and why the oldest part of the medieval Walkenried monastery complex- directly opposite the information centre- is part of it.

The absolute highlight of the information centre is the 3D landscape model with its film projection- showing the 3,000 years of cultural history associated with the world heritage in the Harz Mountains „at the touch of a button“. A visit to the World Heritage Information Centre is free of charge - access is low- barrier. WIEDA

Wieda is located in the southern Harz north of Bad Sachsa in the Nature Park Harz and belongs to the municipality of Walkenried. Northwest of Wieda rises the highest mountain in the southern Harz region, the Stöberhai (approx. 720 m).

The church building in Wieda dates back from 1778 - at the same time the free-standing bell tower was built on the opposite "Käseberg", (mountain), so the bells could be heard throughout the entire valley.

The impressive economic history of the municipality is displayed in the Wieda Glass and Ironworks Museum and a small oven exhibition shows the ironworks built in the 13th century and their products. Don't miss the feeding of wild deer at the restaurant "Bahnhof Stöberhai" and explore the bee trail.

Once a year, the residents of Wieda invite to the popular street festival „Spelle varn Schwelle“ (local vernacular for chatting at the doorsteps) on the Bohlweg, which is known far beyond the town borders. The emphasis is on hearty culinary fare: the traditional specialty "Kniester" (roast potatoes and sausage) is served.

The town presents itself during the "Wieda Nativity Scene" in a unique way: from the first Advent until the end of the year, numerous life-size nativity scenes provide unforgettable impressions and get everyone into the spirit of Christmas!

SPA RESORT ZORGE

Cistercian monks built an ironworks in Zorge in 1249, which over the centuries developed into an important industrial site for the Duchy of Braunschweig.

From 1842, the first German engines for the Braunschweig State Railways were manufactured in Zorge.

Today, the state-certified spa resort is one of the picturesque Harz villages full of half-timbered houses. The river Zorge runs straight through the village. In the centre, next to the Tourist Information Office, the idyllic Spa Park- refurbished in 2011- invites visitors with a picturesque walkway. The Tourist Information Office and Local History Museum with many interesting exhibits are located in the Zacharias-Koch-House, right next to the Spa Park.

In summer, the Zorge forest swimming pool is the place to be- with three pools (1,400 m² swimming area) and a green area of 4,500 m², this bathing paradise is one of the most beautiful natural facilities in the Harz mountains.

Another attraction in the idyllic spa resort is the “Hammerschmiede”, one of the last regional distilleries and producer of the Hercynian single malt whiskeys.

The new World Heritage Information Center in Walkenried, located directly opposite the entrance to the Cistercian Monastery Museum of Walkenried, offers an overview of the UNESCO World Heritage Sites: the „Rammelsberg“ mine, the old town centre of Goslar and the “Oberharz Water Supply System“, in short: the UNESCO World Heritage Sites in the Harz mountains. THE UNESCO WORLD HERITAGE IN THE HARZ

The world heritage site „Rammelsberg“ mine, the old town centre of Goslar and “Oberharz Water Supply System“ with publicly accessible archaeological monuments and museum facilities extends over an area of over 200 square kilometers. It is one of the most multi-faceted world heritage sites in Germany.

The once rich deposits of iron ore left a lasting mark on the region: the historical traces range from mining and water management facilities on the Rammelsberg and in the western and upper Harz Mountains to the secular architecture of the Imperial Palace in Goslar and the economic activities of the Walkenried Cistercian monastery. Changing landscapes, mining, energy production, architecture and urban development are the guiding themes of the world heritage.

The Rammelsberg ore mine and the old town centre of Goslar were included in the UNESCO World Heritage List in 1992. In 2010 this world heritage site expanded to encompass the Oberharz Water Supply System - the unique pre-industrial energy supply system of the mining economy in the Oberharz.

The World Heritage Information Centre Walkenried - housed in a distinguished 19th Century building - conveys the extraordinary universal value of the World Heritage site in the Harz: more than 200 square kilometers in size, with artefacts above and below ground testifying to 3,000- years of cultural history.

The highlight is an impressive 3D landscape model that bundles the centuries-long interaction of nature, culture, and technology in a 7-minute film projection and shows the entire wealth of the world heritage in the Harz Mountains in an enticing way.

The World Heritage sites in the immediate vicinity are also examined in more detail in the exhibition: the medieval Walkenried monastery complex opposite the information centre with the Cistercian Museum, the mine “Samson“ in Sankt Andreasberg and the Oderteich (lake) in the middle of the Harz National Park.

Put together your individual itinerary of the World Heritage Sites at the Walkenried World Heritage Info Centre at a media terminal and take your own “roadmap“ with you on your smartphone or in print.

Visiting the information centre is free of charge. It has low -barrier- access and is only a three-minute walk from the museum car park. The Tourist Information Office for the community of Walkenried is located in the same building.

Devout men of God from the Cistercian order worked for around 400 years in the once famous Walkenried monastery in the southern Harz Mountains- today it houses a museum. This has not only left outstanding architectural traces, but also others that make the monastery complex part of the UNESCO World Heritage in the Harz Mountains today.

CISTERCIAN MUSEUM MONASTERY WALKENRIED

TODAY IN THE MIDDLE AGES

The men of God used the power of water as early as the Middle Ages for their own mining industry and constructed reservoir and trench systems. While the ruins of the monastery church still document its former size and importance, its Gothic enclosure houses a uniquely captivating museum, the Cistercian Museum at Walkenried Monastery.

Embark on a journey through time and learn about the life of the people of God behind high monastery walls, characterized by prayer and work, and explore how the monks thought and acted in the Middle Ages. Acoustic and visual installations as well as the focus on their extremely successful and large-scale business activities - comparable to a modern corporation - further increase the fascination of this almost 900-years-old place.

Today's museum, which tells and honors this special story, is a place of discovery for all generations. Explore the Middle Ages by yourself with an audio guide – a special one for children is available – or on a guided tour.

You can also immerse yourself in an atmosphere of stillness and seclusion on one of the candlelit tours of the Gothic cloister after dark.

GOOD TO KNOW:

The museum is partially barrier-free and only a three-minute walk from the museum car park. Visit the KlosterCafé at the entrance to the museum. Opening hours are available on the museum website.

FOOD & DRINK CULINARY DELIGHTS

CULINARY DELIGHTS

The Harz and its foothills offer a variety of regional delicacies on a relaxing and eventful Harz holiday. More and more restaurants trust local businesses and regional produce characterized by high quality.

Traditional animal breeds, plant species and production methods are used. Traditional dishes and historical recipes make a comeback as Harz specialities in our restaurants.

Fish, game, honey, fruit spreads and beer enrich the menu and inspire chefs to come up with new and tasty creations. The dishes get their finishing touch with herbs from the Harz mountain meadows- already highly valued by the monks of the many monasteries in the Harz mountains.

Many products and ingredients from this regional production are available at local weekly markets and in some supermarkets. Smaller Deli shops offer herbs, spices, spirits, and other delicacies- nicely packaged they make the perfect souvenir or gift.
